TORDAN ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS, ROCKBRIDGE COUNTY, VA.

These delightful Springs are eight miles from Goshen Depot, on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, from which boint elegant coaches run regularly over a good road through a beautiful and pletureque country. The improvements are entirely new, and embrace all the modern conveniences for the nost comfortable accommodations. The principal hotel, in addition to Pariors, Dining-Room, Rail-Room, &c. contains upwards of one hundred chambers, all newly furnished, with gas and electric bills in each (the only summer resort in Virginia which has). There are also superb cottage accommodations. Post and telegraph-offices in the hotel. Two daily mails from all points. In addition to the Alam waters, whose neddeinal qualities are too well known to specially refer to, there is on the grounds one of the strongest and best Chalybeate Springs in the country, which is a direct and powerful tonic. For further particulars, terms, &c., address by ioner JOSEPHIN, WOODWARD, my 24-cod2m Manuser at the Springs. These delightful Springs are eight miles from HEALING SPRINGS,

If the chapel was "packed" Wednesday night, it was double packed last night with such an audience as only Richmond can turn out. The dignity, official position, beauty of our fair city were all there to attest their interest in these noble young men whose best commendation is the report of the Faculty that during the entire session there has not been a single student arraigned before the Faculty for any breach of order or neglect of study.

Indeed the college is to be most cordially congratulated that a most

> In appounding the delivery of the Francis Gwinn medal (founded by Rev. Dr. D. W. Gwinn, of Atlanta, Ga., in honor of his mother). Dr. Curry, the professor of Moral Philosophy, took occasion to say that this honor had not been lightly won, but that Mr. Frank Anderson of Richmond, Mr. Bartenstein of Warrenton, and Mr. Rig-gan of Isle of Wight, had contested the honor so closely that it was very difficult for him to decide. But after feet hours of hard work and careful calculation he had decided that Mr. Coleman was entitled to the prize.

Rev. Dr. Long, in delivering THE PHILOSOPHY MEDAL, made an address which, for ability, appropriateness, and graceful diction, is rarely excelled on a college platform, and it is regretted that the crowded columns of the Dispatch prevents any report of it. In conferring the law diplomas Professor Davies made a most appropriate and graceful little speech to the graduates. THE CLOSING ADDRESS of Professor Puryear to the Masters o Arts and the graduates generally was one of rare power, and was enthusiastically applauded. He explained that the college requires every man who bears off a diploma to make at least eighty per cent. on his examinations and in his class standing, and that a proof of the high standard of scholarship required in Richmond College was the fact that they had had only sixteen Masters of Arts since 1866.

He congratulated and warmly thanked the students on their uniform good besuch brilliant presence, with so many bright havior duting the session, and said that. while his life had been spent in colleges, The address contained a number of good things, which brought down the house. And thus has closed a most brilliant com-DISPATCH PRINTING-HOUSE. Good work, low mencement of our Richmond College.
